A SINGULAR AFFAIR.

Arrest of a Respectable Elderly Man for Distributing Cbscene Decuments.

The Second District Police yesterday evening arrested a very respectable looking man, of perhaps fifty years of age, and giving his name as Thomas G. Mellen, at the instance of a well-known citizen, who charged him with distributing obscene case are peculiar and give an insight into a life of misery and shame that are horrifying. The attention of the citizen who saused the affect was called to the affair by his little daughter, who brought him one of the documents. She said that an old gentiemen had called ber, given it to her and fold her to give it to he mama. She also stated, as was found o be a fact afterwards, that he had stopped at the houses of the neighbors and had left one at each, always with children or females. The document in question is a sheet of paper about sixteen inches long and twelve broad, closely printed on one side, in three columns, resembling the sheet of directions of testimonials of a the contents are norrible—not so much for their obscenity, which is most vile, but for the story which is there told, and which bears on its face the imprint of truth so far as the incidents it narrates are concerned It details the history of the life of this Thomas Haggerty, who, to use the lan-guage of the document, "for a poor oung man, stood as fair as any youth in the State or county. He was moral and civil, respected by everybody; a good mechanic, he could turn his hand o any mechanical art or skill. But this the fatal doom of despair of his mortal life." The document continues, (we copy it to show the style): "July 12, 1842, he was married to Catharine Evans. She was sixteen years old; raised in the country, in Woodford county. She was raised by her old grand-mother, a good old Presbyterian. This Catharine's mild, sanctified ways was what drew the at-
